

THE OLDHAM GROUP

The Oldham Group is excited to be an authorized reseller of Esko products and technology

February 24, 2025

The Oldham Group headquartered in Springfield, IL along with a full distribution facility in Dallas, Texas has recently become an authorized reseller for Esko products. This is a significant development for the Oldham Group as it creates a streamlined workflow with the addition of Esko's hardware and software along with Asahi plate technology. Here's why:

- Esko's Leading Role: Esko is a global leader in integrated premedia and flexographic software and hardware solutions for the packaging, label, and print industries. Their products are known for innovation and efficiency, covering areas like design, prepress, automation, and quality control.
- Enhanced Access: This relationship means The Oldham Group can now offer and support Esko's full range of products and services to its clients. This provides our customers with cutting-edge technology that can improve their production workflows and competitiveness.
- Benefits for Oldham Group Clients: Companies working with The Oldham Group can now benefit from:
 - Streamlined Workflows: Esko's solutions integrate various stages of the production process, from design to print, leading to increased efficiency and reduced errors.
 - Oldham partnership with Asahi plates along with Esko's imaging and exposure technology provides best in class products for the flexo market.
 - Improved Quality: Esko's tools help ensure consistent and high-quality output, meeting the demanding standards of today's market.
 - Innovation: Access to Esko's latest technologies allows businesses to stay ahead of the curve and offer innovative packaging and print solutions.
- Strengthened Partnership: This collaboration signifies a strong partnership between The Oldham Group and Esko, combining Oldham's expertise and customer relationships with Esko's industry-leading technology.

Doug McClure – Oldham Esko Team Leader

“The Esko products are widely accepted and used within the printing industry. Whether it be their highly advanced workflow, or their imaging product line, Esko is recognized as an industry leader. To be able to bundle Asahi plates with the Esko offerings, we believe we have the ability to assist our customers with high quality products.”

Larry Moore – VP Esko Channel Partners

“We are excited to welcome The Oldham group to Esko's family of Resale partners in The United States and are very much looking forward to working with the team at Oldham in serving and supporting their customers as we grow together.”